

COUNTY ELECTION.

SMITH BEATS EVANS BY SEVEN HUNDRED.

All the Precincts in the County Heard From Except Cattle Creek and Hampton.

The following is the vote in Orangeburg County as far as heard from:

United States Senator.
Jno. Gary Evans. 1163
E. D. Smith. 1912

State Supt. of Education.
Stiles R. Mellichamp. 2820
J. E. Swearingen. 2183

Rail Road Commissioner.
Jas. Candler. 910
Banks L. Caughman. 2185

House of Representatives.
T. P. Horger. 1710
M. O'Riley. 1360

County Supervisor.
M. C. Edwins. 1454
F. J. D. Felder. 1598

County Supt. of Education.
E. H. Houser. 1331
L. W. Livingston. 1769

Horger goes to the Legislature. Felder is elected Supervisor and Livingston is elected Superintendent of Education. The vote to be heard from will not change this result.

The above is the total vote of the County with the exception of Cattle Creek and Hampton precincts. These two precincts polled about eighty votes in the last primary, which is not enough to change the result.

The total vote will be about 2,150, which is a falling off of about 300 votes from the first primary.

SAVE FARMER'S MONEY.

Farmers' Union to Sell Direct to Foreign Manufacturers.

The Farmer's Union says measures which bid fair to almost revolutionize the present methods of exporting the cotton crop to the foreign mills and spinners were recommended and heartily endorsed by the Farmers' Union National Convention Committee, composed of one man from each cotton State, which met at Memphis, Tenn., August 10. To every member of the union will be sent an agreement for him to sign and forward to the local secretary of the union pledging his individual support in a direct marketing of the present cotton crop.

The committee strongly advocated shipping direct to the foreign mills and spinners, which they claimed could easily be accomplished by furnishing the same business advantages as the heavy exporter now gives to the mills. The Union warehouses which have been established throughout the South were the first step in this direction and the output through these warehouses will be disposed of by the cotton committee. The growers have been asked to pledge their cotton to them and the sales will be apportioned among the States according to the amount pledged.

This co-operation, which The Sun says has practically been pledged by every member of the Union, means that the market will not be overflooded and the market prices will no longer be controlled by the speculators, and competition among sellers will be done away with. This would be a long step in the right direction if it can be successfully carried out. It would not only put the speculator out of business, but would save millions of dollars to the men who make the cotton.

MRS. RACHEL HARLEY DEAD.

Orangeburg Loses its Oldest Resident, Aged 93 Years.

Mrs. Rachel Harley, relict of the late Joseph P. Harley, died at 4 o'clock Saturday morning at the residence of Mr. L. Bennett, who married her grand daughter, on West Russell street. Mrs. Harley was the oldest resident of this city, being 93 years of age at the time of her death.

Shes sustained injuries by a fall about five years ago, since which time she has been confined to a rolling chair. Up to about 10 days ago her general physical condition had been very good for a person so well advanced in years but it seemed that a general breakdown was suffered, which ended in her demise Saturday.

Mrs. Harley's long life was one of great activity and usefulness. She was a true friend to the poor and needy and many burdens were lightened by a wise dispensation of her bounty. The only relatives who survive Mrs. Harley are a son, Mr. W. L. Harley, two granddaughters, Mrs. L. Bennett and Mrs. C. P. DuPont of Spartanburg, and a niece, Mrs. Samuel Dibble.

Commissioners of Election.

Governor Ansel has appointed the following from Orangeburg county as commissioners of election for state and county officers for this county: J. Stokes Salley, Orangeburg; J. D. Griffith, Orangeburg; and J. C. Fanchess, Rowlesville. The following were appointed as commissioners of election for members of congress and presidential elections: M. Eugene Zeigler, Orangeburg; A. A. Danziger, Ellerbe; and J. G. Caughman, Neeces.

Ice Cream Festival.

There will be an ice cream festival at the home of Mr. W. C. Bricks, on West Carolina on Friday afternoon and evening for the benefit of the High School. The public generally is invited to come and have a good time.

RESIDENCE ROBBED.

Of Much Silverware and Many Other Articles.

Burglars are again at work in this city, and it is about time that some of the light-fingered geatry are run down and punished. On last Saturday afternoon or night the residence of Mr. W. K. Sease on Glover Street was entered by robbers and much silverware and other things carried off. From an examination of the premises, it seems as though the burglars entered from a window as the glass was broken therefrom, in the rear of the house.

For sometime the family of Mr. Sease has been up in the mountains and he was home only at night. When he went home on Saturday night he found that his house had been entered and many valuable pieces of silver and other articles had been carried off. From the appearance of things the robbers seemed to have made a thorough search for valuables, as everything was in a terribly mixed up state. Upon examination Mr. Sease found that silverware and other things had been taken to the amount of six hundred dollars or more. He immediately notified the police, who are now investigating the robbery, and we hope they will succeed in running down the robbers.

It is of known exactly when the thieves entered the house, but it is said that the colored cook, who visited the house every day to look after the plants, noticed when she visited the house at four o'clock on Saturday afternoon that a window at the rear of the house seemed to be broken open, and from this it is believed that the house was entered during the day. The robbers may have been in the house when the cook was in the yard and verandas.

Not only were the most valuable pieces of silverware taken, but a number of articles of clothing is missing, and the wardrobes and bureaus were ransacked, and the contents scattered about on the floor. It is also stated that there may be certain of the jewelry belonging to Mrs. Sease which may be missing, but which Mr. Sease cannot state positively at present. Some ornaments were broken and scattered about, which showed that the robbers were deliberate in their action. Otherwise they would have hardly taken time to break up things that could possibly do them no good.

There is a mystery surrounding this bold robbery, and the question is who did it? All of the doors to the house were found locked, and with the exception of the back door, the keys were all in the locks on the inside. There was no key to the back door, but it was locked. So the robbers must have entered the house through the window that was found broken in the rear of the house.

SETTLED WITH TREASURER

Interesting Figures From the County Auditors Office.

Auditor T. M. McMichael made his annual settlement with Treasurer General Jones on June 30. Comptroller General Jones was in the city on Thursday and went over the settlement and found it correct. The settlement covers twelve months, from June 30th, 1907, to June 30th, 1908, and is in three divisions, State, County, and School funds.

The amount paid the state is $14,623.55. The cash on hand for the state is $2,274.01. The amount expended for school purposes is $72,385.32, and the cash on hand for the school fund is $24,650.01. The total resources for the county amount to $55,789.40. The net expenditures amount to $50,515.31, making a deficit of $5,274.09, which added to the debt of $9,671.55, makes the debt on June 30th, 1908, $14,946.64. The county has borrowed $24,000.00 against the taxes of 1908 and has cash on hand to the amount of $5,239.78.

The Dispersary profits amount to $69,394.88 of which one half went to the towns, one fourth to the county and one fourth to the school funds. The Treasurer also has on hand $19,921.49 for the retirement of the various issues of bonds for school buildings in different parts of the county, which after meeting interest payments will be held until maturity of said bonds.

Fanned Him Down.

A midget man known as "Big Willie" was up before Magistrate Brunson on Friday for stealing lumber from the Atlantic Coast Lumber yard. He became quite abusive of a witness while in court, and was sent up for thirty days for contempt by Magistrate Brunson. He was convicted of stealing the lumber and got another thirty days for that. When he reached jail he declined to allow himself searched, but he was tamed down when the constable brought his persuader in view.

Landmarks Removed.

The two old oak trees that stood in front of the postoffice have been cut down and made into fire wood. These trees were quite large and as they obstructed the new and handsome hotel now being built on the corner they had to go. These trees were old landmarks, having stood the storms of many winters.

Stealing From His Neighbor.

A light-fingered colored man by the name of Newton Muldrow was sent up for thirty days by Magistrate Brunson for stealing sweet potatoes from a neighbor's field. Muldrow will find it cheaper to grow his potatoes. He is also charged with forging orders on Mr. Geo. V. Zeigler.

Busy Week in Court.

HOLD YOUR COTTON.

THIS IS THE ADVICE OF MR. B. HARRIS.

President of the South Carolina Farmers Union to the Farmers Who Make the Cotton.

Why is it that cotton has not reached the minimum price set, 15 cents? Is it too late? I answer, No. What, then, is the cause of its being down? The producer alone is to blame. He is ready at all times to listen to all he hears about the bear side of cotton, but fails to look into the true situation and the condition of the crop. He does not realize that cotton is now scarcer than it has been in twenty-five years, while the demand is just as great, when we consider the supply of raw material. It must be remembered that last year's crop was short more than four million bales. In view of this we can reach no other conclusion but that the producer himself is to blame for our not reaching the minimum before this. He has become frightened, at this bluff of the bear element, the spinner and speculator, and has taken their assertions as facts.

Their first bluff was the mills running on short time. It was necessary for them to do this, as it was impossible for them to secure saw material to run on. Last year's short crop forced them to curtail, not their production but their consumption. Cotton was not to be had. They must bluff you making you believe that they could not sell their goods, and frightened you again. While they have goods stored in their own warehouses, the commission houses in New York and other centers have less goods than they have had in years. Not until the entire surplus is consumed in these centers will the goods be taken from the local warehouses.

I want to impress upon the farmers that now is the time to hold your old cotton, as well as your new. If cotton is held off of the market throughout the South for the next sixty days the brokers and speculators will be compelled to give the price in order to fill contracts sold to the spinners head. You can do this by putting your cotton in bonded warehouses and borrowing money on it. Money is now plentiful for legitimate purposes.

The continental mills are short of cotton and there is a demand for actual cotton from this source, while the offerings are small. It is getting harder every day to buy cotton for prompt shipment. The supply in the American mills is not sufficient for twenty days, if that long. The New England mills will soon have to buy cotton or close down. They have been buying from hand to mouth for the last three months. I know of one hundred bales of cotton sold last week by one mill. Fifty bales of this week to a mill that was closed down, while the other fifty went to another mill. These two mills had to have this cotton to begin work with on the 17th inst. All the mills which have been closed down resumed operations last Monday. From this we assume that trade conditions must be getting better. I hear from good authority that all the mills in this section will soon begin operating on full time. It is understood that a number of mills have sold their output ahead for several months. All together the situation in the cotton market is not as bad as it is reported to be. Generally throughout the country the mills would be running on full time if they could get cotton to spin.

Now, as to the condition of the growing crop. We hear it started from the bear side that we will make four million bales this year, and that cotton will decline to eight cents. This is another great bluff, and it will frighten some producers. It is my honest belief, based upon the information at my hand, that the crop of last year will not more than be duplicated. Another shortage like last year will produce one of the biggest cotton panics that the world has ever known, and the tails of our shirts will have to be made shorter to give every man a shirt.

Crop conditions in South Carolina are not what they were two weeks ago. The crop is fully 25 per cent. off. This is due to too much rain in June and early in July, followed by excessive heat. It is impossible now for the plant ever to recuperate and make a top crop.

In Texas reports say that the crop has been damaged in sections by too much rain, which in other sections, the crop has been cut off considerably by drought and the devastation of the boll weevil. Texas cannot produce anything approaching what is considered a full crop.

Alabama and Mississippi both report too much rain, followed by excessively hot weather, producing rust, black rot and shedding.

Georgia reports thirty counties affected with black rot, which is damaging the crop no little. Other sections report caterpillars, too much rain, followed by excessive heat. Cotton has deteriorated wonderfully in the last ten days.

The other cotton belt States report conditions just as bad. In view of this information, it is the height of folly for the producer and holder of spots to become frightened and sell. The Farmers' Union is in a position to get a correct estimate of the crop, and it is wisdom in the farmer listening to the Union, whose interest is identical with his, rather than to listen to the speculator, whose interest it is to get your cotton just as cheap as possible.

The National Convention of the Farmers' Union convened September 1st for the purpose of fixing the price of cotton. At that time the Union will know the exact condition of the crop, and will fix its price in keeping with those conditions.

In view of these facts, I urge every man owning a bale of cotton to store it in a bonded warehouse, borrow

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS.

Cases Disposed of Up to Tuesday Afternoon.

The Court of General Sessions convened here Monday morning, with Judge Robert Aldrich of Darwell presiding, and Solicitor Hildebrand and Stenographer Wood, who is temporarily relieving Mr. Glaze, in their respective places.

This is Judge Aldrich's first appearance in Orangeburg since his elevation to the judiciary. As usual, he delivered a very strong and comprehensive charge to the grand jury and urged that body to see that the laws of the State are properly administered in this county, and that every transgressor is brought to the bar of justice.

Very little time was required to get the Court machinery in motion, owing to the efficient work previously done by the local Court attaches, and already several cases have been disposed of.

Although Tuesday was election day Court proceedings were not interrupted. The custom of allowing those witnesses and jurors, who are from the country, to have their names transferred to the city club rolls will be followed and no one will be deprived of his constitutional right to vote for the men of his choice. The following cases have been disposed of:

A. S. Williams and Knowlton Williams, brothers, were indicted for assault and battery with intent to kill. A. S. Williams pleaded guilty to assault and battery of a high and aggravated nature and was given a sentence of $25 or forty days. Knowlton Williams pleaded guilty to assault of a high and aggravated nature and was given $25 or thirty days. The defendants are white and the assault was committed some months ago on the marshal of Livingston.

Tatum Darby, colored, was convicted of burglary and larceny, having broken into another negro's house. The Judge imposed a sentence of three years on the county works.

Lucas Adams, a negro youth, pleaded guilty to burglary, committed about two months ago on the premises of Mr. George H. Cornelison, in this city. There was no evidence that the defendant had stolen anything, so the charge of larceny was eliminated.

Thomas L. Griffith and George E. Smith, white, charged with the killing of a negro. The defense set up the plea of accidental killing, as the defendants were shooting game and were not aware that anybody was in range. The jury being convinced that the killing was accidental brought in a verdict of acquittal.

COTTON TOO CHEAP.

The Crop Now Being Marketed is Not Large.

The price now being paid for cotton is entirely too low in view of the size of the crop, which is not planning out as was expected sometime ago. In the last month the crop has fallen off at least twenty per cent. The Farmers' Union estimates the crop at 11,500,000 bales. We believe this is a fair estimate. The Farmers' Union and Secretary Hester, of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange, are not very far apart in their estimates. Secretary Hester's estimate is 11,571,000 bales, being only seventy-one thousand more than the estimate of the Farmer's Union.

The estimate of the Agricultural Department of the United States Government is 13,500,000 bales which is very near the crop of last year, which was 13,510,982 bales. Here we have three estimates. One made by the delegates from all over the cotton belt to the convention of the Farmer's Union, which met last week at Fort Worth, Texas, one from Secretary Hester, Secretary of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange, and one from the National Agricultural Department. The two first estimates are most agree, while the last makes the crop 2,000,000 bales larger than the first two.

Now which is right? We would rather trust the figures of the Farmer's Union and Secretary Hester than those of the Agricultural Department, because it has been caught falsifying the figures once, and we do not trust them now. If the crop is only 11,500,000 bales our farmers are not receiving near what their cotton is worth and what it will sell for later, if it is not rushed on the market. The last crop was over 13,500,000 bales and yet the surplus is not large. So if the present crop is two million bales less than the crop of last year, it ought to be at least sold for as good a price, which was far in excess of present quotations.

From Augusta Ga.

Mr. D. M. Shady, 407 Crawford Ave., West end, spent over $200 for blood purifiers and medicines trying to heal the boils and sores on his face and neck, but nothing ever benefited him until he tried Globe Tonic. His boils and sores are entirely healed, he has gained 10 pounds in weight and feels like a new man.

Samples free or $1 bottles 50c, 14 S. Broughton street, Sept. 26, will be the last day at advertising prices.

Committee Appointed.

Col. D. O. Herbert, president of the Court House Democratic Club, at the request of County Chairman Robert Lide, appointed committee below to solicit contributions for the presidential campaign: B. H. Moss, Chairman; V. G. Bryant, L. H. Wannamaker, Jr., J. A. Berry and J. Stokes Salley.

money to meet your obligations and hold on till the price set is reached. It is selfish in us to work hard and make a crop and then for the vendor and speculator have it at least half the cost to make it. Stand by your guns and make a good thing and victory is ours.

HAPPILY MARRIED.

TWO HEARTS MADE TO BEAT AS ONE.

Mr. Summers Wightman Dibble and Miss Margaret Annie Tarrant United in Wedlock.

A wedding of more than usual interest was the one solemnized at the First Methodist Church at Springfield Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. The contracting parties were Mr. Summers Wightman Dibble, one of Springfield's most popular and progressive merchants, and Miss Margaret Annie Tarrant, an attractive and accomplished young lady of that place, who by her amiable traits of character has won a host of admiring friends. The church was tastefully decorated with pot plants and ferns, a solid background of white traced with delicate vines successfully carrying out the color scheme of white and green. A large crowd attended their interest in this event, the church being filled to its utmost capacity.

First of the bridal party were the ushers, who came down each aisle: Messrs. Tom Bean, Richard Fanning, Melbourn Summers and Hugh S. Farley, of Spartanburg. Following them were four flower girls, Lucile Dibble, Edna Minus, Virginia Odum and Ray Jumper, dressed in dainty white lingerie dresses. The attendants of the bride were: Misses Coline Phillips, Clara Hair, Edith Phillips and Minnie Dibble, of Orangeburg.

The maid of honor, Miss Mattie Tarrant, a sister of the bride, and the first bridesmaid, Miss Susie Dibble, of Orangeburg, then entered. Next came the bride with her brother, Mr. R. G. Tarrant of Aiken, the groom and his best man, Mr. James Jumper, having entered from the vestry at the first sound of the Wedding March. The bridal party arranged themselves at the altar, where the ceremony was performed by the father of the bride, the Rev. R. B. Tarrant, the ring ceremony being impressively carried out.

The music was beautifully rendered by Miss Mary Duncan Tarrant, and during the ceremony Miss Attila Phillips played "Heart and Flowers" softly on the violin, the sweet strains harmonizing with the solemnity of the occasion.

The wedding costumes were particularly simple and sweet. The maids wore white organdies with pink girdles and carried pink carnations with ferns; the maid of honor was becomingly attired in pink crepe de chine over tulle, carried pink roses and ferns. The bride was beautiful in a princess gown of white silk trimmed in point d'esprit and lace. Her veil was held by lilacs of the valley. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses.

The happy couple retired immediately to the home of the bride, where her costume was changed to a tailored suit of blue chiffon panama, hat to match. They left on the 8 o'clock train for Columbia and other points, returning by way of Orangeburg, where they will be at home to their many friends for a few days in that city at the residence of the groom's parents.

The presents were numerous and costly and gave evidence of the high esteem in which the bride and groom were held, coming from all parts of the State.

On the evening previous to the wedding a reception was tendered the bridal party at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Odum, a brother and sister of the bride. On the veranda, with the soft light furnished by Japanese lanterns, several courses were served, after which the guests repaired to the parlor, where much enjoyment was afforded by the cutting of the wedding cake.

On Monday afternoon a linen shower was given the bride by one of her most intimate friends, Miss Clara Hair. The guests were met at the door by Mrs. H. A. Odum and ushered into the parlor, where Miss Hair received. The room was a bower of ferns, pot plants and pink carnations. A floral contest proved a very pleasant feature of the afternoon. After delightful refreshments were served, a dainty white parasol having been suspended over the bride's table, the white ribbon was drawn by little Gretchen Hair, of Wilhinton, thus showing the bride-elect with many pretty and beautiful articles of amen.

The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. T. O. S. Dibble, Miss Sue E. Dibble, Misses Susie, Minnie and Lucile Dibble, of Orangeburg, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Tarrant, of Aiken, Miss Maggie Leo Salley and Mrs. Oscar Salley, of Salley; Miss Victoria Dantzer, of Holly Hill; Mrs. A. J. Thackston, of Orangeburg; Mrs. Tom Hair, of Wilhinton; Mr. W. E. McIntosh, of Lynchburg; Mr. Hugh S. Farley, of Spartanburg; Miss Stella Alms, of Blackville; and Mr. Clifford Summers, of Baton Rouge, La.

Personal.

Capt. T. McKewen Albergoth was in the city last week to see his father, Mr. T. C. Albergoth, who is quite sick.

Mr. Thos. A. Fairry, one of Orangeburg's enterprising business men who came to Spartanburg some time ago, was in the city last week shaking hands with his many friends.

The Times and Democrat had a call Monday from Messrs. Hugo Sheridan and Elbert Rhodes, two bright young men of the Hamburg Herald force.

Very Old Man.

Fred Jones, an old colored man, who says he is 135 years old, walked in town from Aiken on Friday. He came to consult a lawyer about some property some one was trying to cheat him out of. He claims to have seen George Washington several times, but never had the honor of holding his horse.
